IT'S AUCTION TIME!

by Bev & Will Acord

We are excited about the wonderful selection of Cambridge glass in this year's auction to be held on Saturday, March 14, 2020 at the St. Benedict Gymnasium. The preview begins at 8:30 a.m. and the auction starts promptly at 9:30 a.m. Note the change in date and location.

You can review the catalog included in this issue. You can also go online to view all the great photographs. We have a fantastic collection of group shots as well as individual shots of each lot.

We began preparations for the 2020 NCC Auction in August when consignors sent us their proposed lists. In order to limit the auction to one day we narrowed the selection to 405 items. This is one of the hardest parts of the process as there was so much wonderful glass to choose from. Those items that were not selected please hold until next year!

We utilized our yellow house next to the Museum to unpack, photograph, sort into auction order and repack the glass for safe storage and later transport to the auction. We would like to thank those who helped in making this very important auction preparation go smoothly: Larry and Susan Everett, Frank and Vicki Wollenhaupt, David Rankin and Lynn Welker. This is not easy work; we really could not do without you.

And to all those who have so graciously offered their help and support for all the work it will take setting up the auction and working auction day, thank you as well. And thanks to the consignors who provided all the wonderful glass.

So start making your selections of the items you are going to bid on now! Make your hotel reservations right away to join us for the auction, March 14th 2020 as well as the Friday night quarterly meeting and "Auction Preview" presented by Lynn Welker on March 13th. If you can't join us in person, make sure to send in your bids so they arrive in time to be considered.

This is one of NCC's most important fund raising activities. See you at the auction!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A New Year

You're probably reading this in January during a quiet spell after the holidays. Don't worry, it won't stay quiet for very long. March will soon be here and that brings the excitement of our NCC Annual Benefit Auction. Bev Acord and her team had a busy fall getting everything ready. Peruse the listing in this issue, and look at the pictures online. We'll include photos next month if you're not able to see the pictures online. If you can't attend in person, consider placing a mail bid.

January also begins a new cycle of glass shows, starting with the Cartersville Georgia show and then continuing to Florida. February gets busy with shows in Florida, Texas, California and Washington. If possible, make time to visit a show, talk with dealers, talk with other collectors, and most importantly, encourage new collectors to get involved in learning about the variety of items made by the Cambridge Glass Company. We need to plant the seed, and then encourage growth. Of course, you should also plan a trip to Cambridge in late June. Let me know if you need any printed materials to share with others when you attend a show.

Be active and engage with other collectors on social media. FacebookTM is the most popular site. If you use other social media, let us know. Cindy Arent shares information about the latest happenings at the museum. David Ray is working on the member focused Facebook page and sharing information such as "Cambridge 101" and explaining basic glass concepts.

In early December, Jeannie and I made a road trip from Dallas Texas to Wellington Kansas to help the National Depression Glass Association (NDGA) celebrate the Grand Re-Opening of their museum. Only a few month earlier in July 2019, the facade of the building that housed the NDGA National Glass Museum came crashing down, covering the sidewalk with brick and window glass debris, along with a steel beam which weakened the building. It was quickly determined that a new location was needed. They were extremely fortunate to find a larger location only one block away. From July to December, volunteers were busy completing renovations and moving everything to be ready for December 7th Grand Re-Opening. Our congratulations to a fellow glass museum and organization on this task. For our members who have joined since 1998, NCC was presented with a similar challenge when our previous museum on highway 40 flooded with about 6 feet of water in June 1998. Our members rallied to save the contents, and then began the process of finding a new location. The result is our remarkable National Museum of Cambridge Glass located at 135 S 9th Street. Hat's off to previous members who had the vision that resulted in what we have today and to those who continue to ensure we have an outstanding museum.

You can always help. We have a lot of members in Ohio, but the majority of our members are scattered across the country, including Canada and Japan. We're always looking for volunteers to help with tasks. Some of our volunteers have been doing the same tasks for years, and could use some help. I would really like to encourage some of our younger members to help out. Supporting NCC is like supporting any other arts organization.

Every year you elect three members to the board of directors. The slate of candidates will be approved at the March meeting. David Ray is the chair of the nominating committee and would welcome suggestions..

What's coming?

Auction!

I'm sure many of us decorated tables with Cambridge glass. Please share your pictures with editor@cambridgeglass.org for inclusion in the Crystal Ball.

What's on your Cambridge "wish list" for this year, and how can we help?

Sincerely,

Freeman Moore

Museum 2019 - A Very Successful Year!

By Cindy Arent

It's hard to believe it has been fourteen years since we decided to be open limited hours for the holidays to coincide with Dickens Victorian Village in downtown Cambridge. The first year we had to dress in our Victorian costumes and walk downtown handing out museum brochures to attract visitors. Each year we have had more visitors and bus tours. The 2019 Museum's holiday season was very successful! We met so many new friends and reconnected with visitors that return each year. For many visitors, it has become an annual tradition. The theme for the museum holiday season was "Christmas at the Glass House".

During November and December, twenty four bus groups toured the museum from Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and even two motorcoach groups from Canada. Many thanks to Bev Kerr, Dickens Victorian Village Group Tour Coordinator, for her outstanding efforts in scheduling these national group travel companies and to our museum volunteers that met each bus with enthusiasm and smiles on their faces. It isn't easy to handle a group of 55 people inside the museum and give personal attention to each person; it takes team work and practice.

The holiday season began with Good Day Columbus host Cameron Fontana visiting the museum. Yes, we were "Live" on FOX 28 Columbus during the three segments. Cameron loved the museum and we have had many positive comments. In addition to the comments, visitors mentioned that they had seen us on Good Day Columbus!

A few days later, we held the Vintage Appraisal Fair in the museum auditorium. Lynn Welker appraised many items that were brought in by people from the surrounding area.

The Vintage Appraisal Fair was held at the museum in November. Lynn Welker is shown appraising items brought in by Max and Karen Treier.

The Annual Holiday Open House was held on Friday and Saturday of Thanksgiving weekend and was very well attended. At one point, I don't think we could have handled one more person and gift shop sales were great. The following day was Shop Small Saturday. Many thanks to Cambridge Main Street for giving us Shop Small tote bags, balloons and stickers to give to Open House and Shop Small Saturday visitors.

NCC member and writer, Bev Kerr, wrote an article about the Cambridge Glass Christmas ornaments for The Daily Jeffersonian. Bev visited our workshop in Lindy Thaxton's basement to photograph the process. As a result of Bev's article, we sold and shipped even more ornaments. Cambridge Ornament sales reached $4000 this year!

As the dust settles from 2019 and the holiday season, plans are well underway for 2020. The museum theme will be the Roaring 20s and Prohibition with new exhibits planned.

Happy New Year! We hope to see you in Cambridge in 2020 and thank you so very much for your continued support.

We recently received a ledger with the minutes of the American Flint Glass Workers Union (Local #89) from the Cambridge Glass Company. Many thanks to the Klass family for donating another piece of Cambridge history! Their father and grandfather are in the photograph of the factory mold shop to their right. (L-R) Paula Klass and Karen Klass Addis are shown with the AFGWU ledger.

Many thanks to NCC members Bret Price and Charles Tandy for helping clean up the fall leaves around the museum.

The Orme girls visited the museum in November, it has become a tradition each year! Shown left to right are: Mindy Orme, Jennifer Orme-Zavaleta, Pam Orme Wasylik and Amanda Wasylik Geer. Of course they are holding their Cambridge stemware and standing in front of the factory mural of the company once owned by their family.

Marlee Reardon (daughter of museum docent Bob Reardon) and her friend Joe helped get the museum ready for Shop Small Saturday. Thank you for visiting!

Museum volunteer and NCC member, Kat Bennett, is now an expert in using the Cambridge Arms Line. Kat is shown teaching visitors about the 101 ways to give your table a new look!

Ready to greet visitors on our biggest day of the year are left to right: Lindy Thaxton, Cindy Arent, Sharon Bachna, Joey Pirl, Sandi Rohrbough and Sharon Miller. Other volunteers helping with the three large motorcoach groups that day were: Sally Slattery. Betty Davis, Margene Osterberg, Kat Bennett and Reggie Gerko. The day went very well and we had many great comments from the group leaders and visitors! Most were amazed that a group of volunteers could successfully manage such large groups throughout the day.

A table decorated for holiday entertaining.

Send in pictures showing how you decorated with Cambridge glass for the holidays.

Charles Upton

A Tribute by Mark Nye

To those NCC, Inc. members who have joined in the past few years, the name Charles Upton may not mean a great deal. Yes, they may have heard of Charles and that he was a long time member of NCC, Inc. and played a role in the organization but how many members today know the full story.

From an article that appeared in Issue No 1 of the "Cambridge Crystal Ball," written by the late Evelyn Allen, comes this excerpt: "About three years ago, Charles Upton and John Wolfe, who are very avid Cambridge Glass Collectors, started talking NATIONAL CLUB." The two of them talked to many collectors, some encouraging and some feeling it could never be...At a Columbus (Ohio) show in the Fall of 1972 Charles walked into "Ruth Forsythe's booth and Ruth remarked – "When, Charlie, are you going to start a National Club?" This was the spark at the right moment."

The first organizational meeting (of what was to become the National Cambridge Collectors) was held at the home of Charles and Mary Alice Upton on February 11, 1973. Mary Alice had fixed a very lavish dinner....it was served on beautiful Cambridge Rosepoint dinner ware." Thus were the beginnings of NCC, Inc. at the home of Charles and Mary Alice Upton. At this meeting, in addition to the Uptons wee Harry and Evelyn Allen, Bob Coyle and John Wolfe.

On March 5, 1973 the first National Cambridge Collectors Board of Directors met and Charles Upton was elected the first President of NCC Inc. Later Charles served as vice-president and at the time of the 1998 flood that destroyed the original NCC, Inc. museum, he was serving as he NCC, Inc. treasurer. Following his tenure as treasurer, Charlie retired from active participation in NCC, Inc. management and assumed the role of an elder statesman.

Without Charles, better known to many as Charlie, would we have NCC, Inc. today?

Charles Upton did pursue his dream of a national organization and today the National Cambridge Collectors Inc. is an active national collectors' organization, a vibrant member of the Cambridge, Ohio community and owns and operates a nationally known museum dedicated to showcasing the output of the Cambridge Glass Company.

Thanks and Rest in Peace Charlie.

Cambridge Curiosities

By Jack Thompson Chapter 3

Welcome to some of my whimsical observations of the wonderful world of Cambridge glass. Over time, we have come to realize there are so many interesting, strange and/or quirky things about this company and the beautiful products they made. Some may never be explained, but all are just plain fun to think about. These are not meant to be things exhaustively researched; I'll leave that up to you readers or maybe Frank's column of Only Questions – No Answers. Let's just have some fun!

In this column I want to focus entirely on the #3500 or Gadroon Line. This was a huge and popular line introduced in 1933, and there are so many interesting things to examine. Here are just a few of my favorites.

When the #3500 stemware line was introduced in the 1933 catalog supplement, they had two different 10 oz. goblets, the Tall Bowl and the Short Bowl, and that's the way they were referred to. Initially this must have created some confusion with the salesmen's ordering. The solution was to designate the Long Bowl the #3500/1 and the Short Bowl the #3500/2, as these designations show up in the 1935 price catalog. All the remaining 3500 stems are just titled by their shape, such as #3500 - 3 oz. cocktail or the #3500 - 5oz. Café Parfait. This continued into the 1940s as the designations still existed in the 1940 catalog and price pages. Prior to the 1949 catalog being issued, the Short Bowl was dropped from the line as there is no further mention of it. However the Long Bowl continued to carry the #3500/1 designation.

• Since we're on the subject of #3500 stemware, this line is the only one to have a 13 oz. Footed Tumbler. Of course it also had the immensely popular 12 oz. Footed Tumbler or Iced Tea. Why the 13 oz. Footed Tumbler? Was 12 oz. just not quite enough for some people? It's not always easy to recognize right away, as the difference in 1 oz. is nothing in a handmade piece of glass. In fact they rarely hold more than 12 oz. It's a different shape than the 12 oz. but similar to the 10 oz. You just have to know the shape and dimensions, 7" H x 3 ³/₄" W.

10 oz, 13 oz, 12 oz ftd tumblers

- This one has been really bugging me for years. Why is there no dinner plate? The line has a Bread & Butter, Dessert & Salad Plate. This was one of Cambridge's largest lines with stemware and all the serving pieces. Are you kidding me??? How could this have happened? The numbers #3500/3, 4 & 5 were used for the Bread & Butter, Dessert & Salad Plates respectively. The numbers 6, 7, 8 & 9 were not used. Maybe a Dinner Plate, Service Plate and Chop Plate could fit in there? The #3400 and #1402 lines, the other major lines at the time, both had all 6 different plates with the numbers being nicely sequential. That's the way things should be, nice and orderly. And then as if things weren't weird enough, in 1938 and then in the 1940 catalog they decided to turn the #4 Dessert Plate into the #167 Salad Plate. Now they had two different size salad plates and no dessert plate. I think somebody did that just to drive someone like me crazy years later. An interesting side story: Some years ago I bought a collection of RCE Croesus that had come from the original owner. Croesus is cut predominantly on the #3500 line. The 3 different size plates were all there, but since no #3500 Dinner Plate existed, they had the company cut #3400 Dinner Plates instead. How many cut dinner plates have you seen?
- Where are the Salt & Pepper Shakers? Cambridge made so many different shakers, and for all the major lines. But not here. Very strange.
- And then there's the Ice Bucket. According to MVSG.ORG, it had a number, #3500/138, but no image available. Has anyone actually seen one? I imagine they might have taken the popular #852 ice bucket and given the top rim a nice gadroon edge, don't you think? It would have been easy to do.
- Cambridge applied for and received patents for a couple of very cool looking #3500 designs on Dec. 29, 1931, a celery and mayonnaise dish.

These are awesome looking and were very ornate comparatively. However, they seem to never have been put in production. It would have been neat to see these though. Maybe there are some samples out there somewhere.

Cambridge settled on a more simple and versatile mold for the mayonnaise. It could be used for a number of different items and would fit in a seated plate for sets.

3500/59, 3-Pc. Mayonnaise Set, Gold Encrusted

For the Celery, I guess it was easier and less expensive to just include the #652 Celery in the #3500 line as an accessory item. It had been in the Cambridge line since the mid-1920s and was an accessory item to the #3400 Line and Round Line, as well. The redesign of the #652

248 - Pristine 11 in. Celery

3500/652 - 12 in. Celery to add the gadroon edge appears to actually predate the introduction of the #3500 line by over a year. No evidence of the original #652 Celery without the gadroon edge appears after 1932. Bonus points if you recognized the Pristine #248 Celery as being made from and resurrecting the same original #652 mold. Double bonus points if you observed that the etching is done on the bottom of the #652, but not the Pristine. Is it consistently that way? So far as we can tell, but that can change of course. Let me know if you have examples to the contrary.

Until next time, share your enthusiasm and enjoyment of Cambridge glass!

This report is provided to keep members up with what's happening on the world's largest Internet Auction site, and focuses on Cambridge glass items that are seldom or rarely seen. Please note we cannot guarantee the accuracy of listings herein.

Welcome to the eBay Report. This column features Cambridge glass items that sold on eBay circa mid-October to mid-December, 2019. Selling prices have been rounded to the nearest dollar. If no color is mentioned, assume that the piece or part of it being discussed is crystal. Here we go:

"Incognito" Glass on eBay

I often state that an eBay offering was an "incognito" listing. When an eBay seller lists an item for sale, they have to select a category. Most Cambridge Glass items are listed under "Potte ry&Glass>Glassware>Elegant>Cambridge." However, some sellers don't know what they have, and will list an item under a generic glass category such as "Depression>Unknown" or "Elegant>Unknown." They might also choose a category for the type of item, such as "Collectibles>Barware." These auctions don't reach the eyes of as many Cambridge collectors, resulting in fewer bidders and less competition. Those who take the time to browse these "off-category" listings can often find bargains, such as the following:

A #1917/361 Plainware round center handled sandwich tray in Avocado (a.k.a. Pomona) Green sold for $5.

A faithful reader forwarded me an auction for a single Rooster muddler. The seller called it a "chicken on a stick." It sold for the opening bid of $5 and change.

A pair of #635 5 inch single candleholders in PeachBlo sold for $10.

A pair of #227-1/2 low candleholders in Bluebell etched #704 sold for $15. The seller photographed them upside down. For, you see, the way to use these is to go to your local candle retailer and buy a couple of those scented candles in a jar, take off the lid, light them, and set the jar on the flat base of the candleholder, supported by the narrow portion. I mean... how else would one do it?

A pair of very unusual low candleholders with a slightly raised round base, an undocumented blank, etched Elaine, sold for $16. The lucky winner indicates that these will be discussed in an upcoming feature in the Crystal Ball.

I did a comprehensive survey and asked NCC members what their favorite Cambridge pattern is. The result? WETHERFORD. Okay, okay... I totally made that up.

This pattern is kind of like the red-headed stepchild of Cambridge glass. But still, I saw a couple of interesting pieces of Wetherford during this reporting period: A covered powder jar (?) in Light Emerald brought $20 in an incognito listing.

A covered syrup with applied twisted handle, also in Light Emerald, poured it on for $38. This beauty was properly listed in the Cambridge category.

Animals

A Turtle flower frog (domed back version) sold for $120.

A #3 novelty butterfly with an original label stunned, flitting away for $150 after a total of 42 bids were placed.

A#1222 covered Turkey in Bluebell strutted around the eBay barnyard for months for an opening bid of $600. It finally sold at the seller's lowered price of $450. A small chip was noted.

Etched Tableware and Stemware

Multiple bidders fought for a set of 6 #3400/92 optic ribbed whiskeys in PeachBlo etched Portia, which finally sold for $64. This begs the question, where is the matching decanter these no doubt came with originally?

A seller offered two #7966 sherries with Hunt Scene etching at $115, then lowered the price to $98, and they sold.

A seller who seems to be selling off a collection of Amber Gloria etching offered a #3400/76 bulbous shaker plus a #3400/77 slender shaker, each with an Amber foot and crystal top, as a lot. The two (can't call them a pair) sold for $85. Have fun trying to make pairs out of THOSE.

Gold, Silver, and Enamel Decorations

A #842 Decagon 12-1/2 inch flared console bowl in Willow Blue, with blue enamel filled Rosalie etching and gold trim, sold for a mere $40. Apparently there are only a few of us who think that colored enamel filled etched Cambridge glass is totally neat-o. The same seller offered a set of 4 Round Ware 8 inch plates with dark blue enamel filled Willow etching. These sold for only $48. Same comment.

A Round ware 10-1/2 inch service plate in Amber with #715

Willow etching with gold encrustation in the ancillary portions of the etching sold for $45, despite a ¼ inch crack.

A #1242 vase in Carmen with silver deposit decoration of grapes and vines plus some lines around the neck brought $75.

An Amber #3400/68 cream & sugar etched and gold encrusted Minerva sold for a mere $76, but I know someone who was quite happy that he didn't have more competition to win it.

An Ebony #225 vase (made from the same mold as the cocktail shaker) etched and gold encrusted #510 sold for $225.

Miscellaneous

A pair of Cambridge Square hurricane candle lamps on bases were properly identified and appropriately listed, but these midcentury modern gems sold for only $20. Why?

I seldom get to report on interesting Near Cut items. If you see any, feel free to forward them to me so that I won't miss them. A Near Cut #2764 9" Intaglio Rose Bowl Silver Etched Flowers and Leaves was picked for $39.

An original 1930 Cambridge catalog sold for $75.

A pair of La Rosa Pink #1338 triple candleholders sold for $79 in an incognito listing, while another pair, properly listed, brought $190.

A #680 vanity set with cover in Topaz (that's "vaseline" yellow, not Gold Krystol) sold for $100.

A pair of #1402/76 Tally Ho 5 inch candleholders Royal Blue, each with an original label, sold for $100.

A #165 Caprice 3-footed covered candy in La Rosa Alpine, brought $133.

A 13 inch Draped Lady flower arranger in Moonlight Blue bucked the low-price trend on figural flower frogs, garnering $199.

An early Cambridge Near Cut #2836 1/2 gallon Fish Tankard was offered for a $300 opening bid, but the "listing was ended by the seller because the item is no longer available." Hmm...

A set of 3 handled footed ice teas in Rubina surprised me, reaching a hammer price of $333. The color spectrum on these was definitely very good.

A #46 Sea Shell 7-1/2 inch flower holder in Royal Blue brought a surprising $400.

One seller offered both the one-bun and the two-bun Geisha figurines in Light Emerald, each priced at $500 Buy It Now. Both sold!

Finally, a #1298 13 inch vase in Amber etched Gloria with crystal foot sold for an eyebrowraising $575. When I saw the listing and the offering price, I scoffed, but it sold!

That's all for now. If you see any interesting Cambridge glass on eBay that you think I should be watching or reporting on, or if you have any other input, feel free to contact me at LAGlass@pacbell.net. I am well aware that I don't catch every interesting listing, especially those that turned up in a category other than Cambridge.

Until next month, happy Cambridge hunting!
