Glass in the Lone Star State... and beyond

by Freeman & Jeannie Moore

Ah – the fall in Texas. The excitement of the June NCC Convention is over and the first NDGA convention in Dallas was held in July. So that leaves the fall with the chance to attend shows. There are several shows within driving distance of the Dallas area that make a nice weekend trip.

Kent Washburn's San Antonio Show is held in September and February. Kent is gracious enough to provide a table for NCC information. We had the chance to meet two newer NCC members, Phil and Rosie Cook, who described their budding collection of water sets. They brought three examples to the show and pointed out the differences between the Cambridge sets and others. In addition to providing information about National Cambridge Collectors Inc, we like to look and shop at the shows as well! One of the unique finds at the show was a 3500 gold encrusted 3-part relish with Portia along the edge, and chintz on the bottom.

Collectors Phil & Rosie Cook (TX) and Karen Schmidt (MO) visit the NCC table staffed by Freeman & Jeannie Moore

October was the time to make the trip north to Wichita, KS. This was the second time we were invited to set up an NCC information table at the Wichita Glass Show. The Wichita Glass Gazers Depression Club did an outstanding job of organizing the show. The club display had several interesting pieces. We especially liked the 3400/30 keyhole footed bowl with Gloria etching. It really is a bowl on a stem like the single candleholder. At the show, we saw a tally-ho punch ladle, and a couple of hours later, it was sold. We were happy to take home a set of 3140 waters and sherbets.

The October "Age of Elegance" show is held in Waxahachie, just 30 minutes south of Dallas. Gwenell and Scott Pierce, local members, had an outstanding display of salt and pepper sets. Bill and Mary Lou Shuck did a beautiful yellow apple blossom display on an 8 foot table. If you were looking for statuesque items, the show had plenty from which to pick. Bob and Margaret Downing made the trip for the show.

The last show of the year was just up the road a bit, in Tulsa Oklahoma. We had the chance to see a pristine 504 candleholder with Rosepoint etching, pictured on page 89 of Felt's candlestick book. Another unique item was a Rubina 10 ¼" vase with block optic bottom, pictured on row one in the Colors in Cambridge book. There was a display of Scotty dog items,

President's Message:

Then and Now

As I sit to write this message on a frigid December evening, I am comfortably warm inside my home. There is a fire blazing in our stone fireplace and there is a radiant glow from the Carmen Cut Wild Rose Punch bowl set that decorates our dining room table. The delicious smell of sauce wafts from the kitchen; our dog, Cooper, asleep on my feet, completes the scene. The world outside is dressed in white from our first real snow of the year and as Irving Berlin put it, it looks like it's going to be a "White Christmas". The trees are decorated, and the town is awash with twinkling lights and holiday cheer. Tonight, everything feels right with the world.

When you read this the Holidays will be past, New Year's will have come and gone... which kind of makes this a little out of date, but I hope you will forgive me because the wonder of this time of year has me in its grasp. So to all of you, let me once again wish you a heartfelt "Happy New Year."

It's hard to believe it is January 2006. I know we always say that time flies but that's because it undoubtedly does. I don't know if it's just me, but doesn't it seem like it was just yesterday when we were worrying about the Millennium, and whether all the computers would crash? At that same time, NCC was concerned with reestablishing its Museum. The details of how, when and where were a legitimate worry. On the 27th of June, 2002, the Official Grand Opening solidified all the efforts which had made the National Museum of Cambridge Glass a reality. That also seems like just yesterday to me, but one look at the improvements, advancements, and developments proves that the time was all very well spent. I can only wonder, with anticipation, what is down the road in 2006 and beyond, as far as the Museum goes. The staff, led by Cindy, Carl & Lynn, has continued to excel and amaze. As time continues to fly by, I know their creativity will be fascinating to watch.

Something else we can all watch as 2006 unfolds, is the changing character of NCC as an organization. By this I mean the gradual mutation from a basic club model to something that will much more closely reflect a philanthropic organization. I think that 2006's single biggest natural development for NCC will be the Symphony Model of membership.

Now that might sound ominous to some, but in reality it will not change the basic membership level for the vast majority of the club. What it does is make available, to those members who wish it, a way to support NCC as one of their favorite donation vehicles. We are giving our members the chance to look upon NCC the way they might look at any other organization they choose to support financially. I think in today's changing environment, it is important for an organization like ours to be creative in order to continue to exist and thrive. I believe 2006 will mark a great shift in the NCC history and the Symphony Model will go a long way in helping accomplish our future goals. This kind of foresight has marked NCC's path since its beginnings, and is what makes NCC a leader instead of a follower.

In a past message I wrote about Colors Book II; that it was on the drawing board. Believe it or not, it has been reported to me that the photography is completed, and much of the text has already been written. The anticipation of this book, which is probably overdue, has me looking forward to later in 2006, when I can actually hold this book in my hands. I can well imagine what it must have felt like to those individuals who were responsible for the original Colors Book. We have to be thankful that NCC had back then, and still has today, members who will work to produce the best possible product; one from which we can learn, and which we can thoroughly enjoy.

Lastly, when I sit down to write these monthly messages, I like to look back at past Crystal Balls to get a flavor for what was happening five years ago, ten years ago, etc. One thing that was fun to peruse in past January issues were the Auction Lists. What a great event it has been and what wonderful glass has been offered. I suspect that this year's list, as well as the Auction in March itself, will not disappoint. The 2006 version of the NCC Auction is not that far away, so if you can make it, I will see you there.

In closing, I am extremely optimistic that 2006 will be yet another banner year for NCC. Thanks in no small part to all of you who continue to support it.

Cordially,

Ken

Museum Busy in Off-Season Cambridge Glassworker Lends a Hand

by Cindy Arent

The first item on the "to do" list for the day after Thanksgiving was to set up the new Blower's Bench Display in the Education Center. Along with Carl Beynon and me, Willard Kolb (St. Clairsville, OH) and Lindy Thaxton (Fort Wayne, IN) also arrived to help.

After studying the glassmaking equipment for the display that had already been restored and moved to the museum from the NCC storage building, we realized that we needed expert advice. A phone call was made to Bill Boyd, a former glass worker from The Cambridge Glass Company. Bill arrived at the museum and began working on the blower's dummy with wrench in hand. He also told us that the bench, which has the number 48 on the seat, was used by August Heyman. Mr. Heyman was one of the best glass blowers at the factory for 32 years and was pictured in The National Geographic Magazine in 1955. Thanks to Bill Boyd, another interesting piece of Cambridge Glass Company history has been discovered and recorded.

Even though we are closed for the season, the museum was very busy.

Starting restoration work on the Blower's Bench display are: (l to r) Carl Beynon, Cindy Arent, Willard Kolb and Bill Boyd. Mr. Boyd worked in the hot metal department at The Cambridge Glass Company, and provided much valuable information.

Rick and Cindy Jones arrived from Colorado to pack the samovars and pitchers that they had lent for display last year. They also brought with them several donations for the museum collection and gift shop. Thank you Rick and Cindy!

Visitors from the Milbridge Historical Museum in Milbridge, Maine also stopped by to tour the museum. They thoroughly enjoyed seeing our displays and we were happy to network with volunteers from another museum. They were family members of Lorraine Weinman and Mark Votaw.

It was a busy day and much was accomplished. Happy New Year to all!

Convention Corner

The Ladies of Cambridge
(June 22 thru June 25)

by Shelley Cole

Hello again. Have you missed me? Just a short note this month to remind you to put Convention on your 2006 calendar. While the schedule is not completely set, Convention events will begin on Thursday, June 22 and wrap up on Saturday, June 25. Our theme this year should be lovely – "The Ladies of Cambridge." I was amazed at how many there are and I bet you will be too. More on that later though.

In the mean time, I need your help. One of the most famous Ladies of Cambridge is the Flying Lady Bowl. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have one of each on display? If you have an unusual example (or even something as "run of the mill" as Royal Blue or Carmen) and would be willing to share, please let me know. I have only three in my collection, so I'm

Auction How-To's

When you read the auction list in this issue of the Crystal Ball, and you begin to get excited about some special piece on which you are prepared to bid away your life's savings, we offer a few simple suggestions. Follow these and you are sure to have a much more enjoyable auction experience.

1. No matter how rare the piece, do not bid more than the current market value of your home.

2. Even if you're excited, never bid against yourself. Also, it's usually not wise to bid against your own spouse.

3. Do not let the auctioneer catch you falling asleep; he may place bids for you.

4. If you win a hotly contested piece, it is considered rude to gloat by standing up and screaming, "You don't wanna mess with the man!"

5. When you want a piece that's worth a lot of money, don't make the auctioneer go all the way down to fifty cents before you place an opening bid. It's a long enough day already.

6. Bid early and often; it supports the NCC.

CORRECTION

In the December 2005 Crystal Ball, this basket was incorrectly identified as Cambridge Mt. Venon. According to Lynn Welker, it was probably made by Indiana Glass. It had been sent to our website for identification, and Tarzan got it right when he responded to the inquiry. The error was only in the newsletter.

We apologize to anyone who thought they had a rare piece of Cambridge, when they actually had a piece of Indiana Glass.

Vice President Vester Dupree called the meeting of October 11, 2005, to order at 7:00 p.m. Eight members were present.

The September 13, 2005 Minutes and the Treasurer's Report were approved as read.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS:

We continued discussing the program we will present at the June NCC Convention. The year 1931 was a very active year for Cambridge where they introduced a lot of new articles. Off-hand Vicki counted 25+ items for 1931. Comparatively few items were introduced in 1932 and 1933. We will come up with an accurate list of items to get a good idea of just how many years we can cover in a reasonable amount of time.

Vicki Wollenhaupt will have a prototype of our study club publicity project for Judy Rhoads at our November meeting.

Mac Otten suggested one of the best places for us to publicize our study group might be the "Heart of Ohio Antique Mall". It's a high traffic area and we have a chance of reaching a "local" audience.

SHOW AND TELL:

Near Cut Feather 6" handled olive

PROGRAM:

Frank presented a great program on Cambridge Arms. Early Cambridge catalog photos show the smallest 2 arm vase holder and vases atop several candelabra and candlesticks from other lines to form various epergnes. In the early years Cambridge pictured arms with bobèches and crystals in the down position, presumably, to allow some combinations of pieces to fit together better. While "Cambridge Arms" pieces are still relatively easy to find you may want to be on the lookout for some rarities. Among others, you may find colored vases (Moonlight, Gold Krystal and Crown Tuscan), cut vases (Harvest pattern) and crystal peg nappies with 4 or 6 rays.

Respectfully submitted,

Will Acord, Secretary

Study Group #15 North Texas Cambridge Study Group

On October 29, fourteen Cambridge collectors converged on BBQ and glass in Waxahachie, Texas. Members had been to the "Age of Elegance" glass show for a day of shopping and looking and were ready for dinner at a local BBQ restaurant.

Since everyone was hungry, we kept the business part of the meeting to a minimum. We established the next meeting will be our Christmas dinner and gift exchange. It will be Saturday, December 3 at the home of Joyce and Ralph Ryder in Euless, TX. Everyone should bring their favorite stem, along with a dish to pass. Of course, we will be having our gift exchange. The rules are simple – find something nice for the gift exchange worth $20, but hopefully you got a bargain on the item.

Everyone complimented Gwenell and Scott Pearce on the wonderful display of salt and pepper sets they had at the show. The yellow Apple Blossom display by Will and Mary Lou Shuck was outstanding!

The Cambridge book table staffed by Jeannie and Freeman Moore was very visible and provided assistance to show patrons. The North Texas Cambridge Collectors will be donating a milk glass M101 cigarette box to the museum.

Once the dishes were removed, we had several items for Show and Tell. They included: Morgantown Cantata stem with Maybell etch (a unique item that will be written up in the next NDGA newsletter) along with a Monroe stem with unknown cutting. There was a Fostoria stem with Vernon etch, in orchid color, an unknown tumbler and pitcher, a Paden City black forest center handled tray. Of course, Cambridge was well represented with a plainware #134 sugar with E532, #500/122 mulberry honeycomb pitcher set with glasses, amber Valencia ball jug with glasses, #3065 stem with green willow etching, #676 11" round bowl with rose chintz etching and a 1 pound covered candy with unknown cutting and old paper label.

The next meeting will be our holiday meeting, December 3.

Study Group #17 The Columbus Wildflowers

On Thursday, December 8th, 2005, the Wildflowers met at the home of Rose MacConkey for our annual Christmas Potluck and Gift Exchange. With 7 inches of snow predicted, we began our evening by ignoring the weather and enjoying a wonderful dinner of honey baked ham with all the side dishes including a relish tray, sweet potato casserole, green bean casserole, au gratin potatoes, corn pudding and then desserts including cranberry bread and a variety of cookies.

In place of a formal meeting, our hostess, Rose MacConkey, alternated some humorous stories with Christmas contests. David Ray's mother donated two beautiful handmade Christmas table decorations as contest gifts, and the Wildflowers thank her very much for the lovely gesture. Rose read "God's Landscaping Humor" and we had a fun and rowdy Christmas contest of searching the party room for hidden holiday cards, only one of which was the winner. Ken Nicol found the winning card, and chose one of the prizes donated by David's mother.

Rose read the funny story of "Ohio Women" and we had a fill in the blank Cambridge Glass contest which was won by David Ray, who received a set of reindeer placemats. Then Rose read "Jobs I've Had" and we had a final contest of figuring out what Christmas carol was represented by picture clues, and then answering questions about "It's a Wonderful Life." Ralph Warne won the other lovely Christmas decoration prize.

Next came our rousing "Robber Gift Exchange" where we could choose a gift off the table or steal someone else's (and there is always a lot of that!) After the dust settled, we all had wonderful gifts including: a lovely pair of Carmen 3 oz #3078 stems with crystal feet; an Amber Nightset Pitcher with lid and Star cut Tray; a Crown Tuscan Shell Comport with Charleton Harbor Scene; a #3400 Crystal 3 part Candy etched Portia; a pair of crystal Sherbets etched Appleblossom; a #3400 Gold Krystol rolled edge Basket/ Platter; a Smoke Georgian Basket with crystal handle; and a Forest Green Mount Vernon footed Comport.

Our meeting concluded with an exciting Show and Tell of items recently found by members which included: an unusual large Caprice bowl in Amber; an Ebony Comport with Gold Encrusted Rosepoint; a Crown Tuscan Bud Vase with Charleton quilted gold design and Blue Mist on the top and foot; a Crystal Cherub Candlestick with round foot; two Nude stem Cocktails, one in Tahoe Blue and one in Moonlight; a Royal Blue Nude stem Sauterne; a #3400 Aero-optic 10 inch Vase; a Crystal Twisted optic Pitcher; a Daulton Pitcher with Lotus decorate of Silver design on top and cutting on the bottom; a tall Crystal footed Comport with platinum edge; a Nude stem Claret etched Vichy; a Light Emerald flip bowl with enamel Hunt Scene; a Tally ho Goblet with reverse etch Bar Scene and black enamel line; a Three Canny Scot Tumbler; and Sonata Oil Bottle with Wedding Ring cutting.

Everyone had a great time of friendship, fun and glass, and our January 5th meeting will be at the home of David Ray with a topic of "January Blues" or "Ice Blues." Everyone should bring any variations of Cambridge Blue colors for discussion and comparison. Our meeting adjourned at 10:00 PM and the snow had not come down as heavily as predicted!

The Wildflowers want to wish everyone a Very Happy New Year, and new members in the Columbus, Ohio area are always welcome and can contact either Linda Roberts at lrobert2@columbus.rr.com or Barbara Wyrick at bwyr@ee.net going to need a lot of help pulling this together. I can't wait to hear what's out there.

Another area where we can always use more input is in the programs. "I want more educational programs!" That's one of the most frequent comments we hear about convention. Guess what? That means you need to be willing to share your knowledge. We've got a couple great programs in the works, but would love to have a few more. If you've been researching something, or just have a great collection you'd like to share, let me know and we'll get you on the schedule.
